ABSTRACT

This directory of library materials vendors is designed for use by medium-sized public libraries to assist librarians in developing collections for the multicultural, multilingual communities which they serve, and includes information on vendor profile, pre-order services provided, and customer satisfaction. The directory concentrates on four major groups in California: Asian American--of Chinese, Japanese, Korean, Pilipino and Vietnamese descent; Black; Chicano/Spanish-speaking; and Native American. An ethnic vendor is anyone who supplies materials about the history and culture in English or in the languages of the particular group or groups, whether exclusively or as part of his stock. A machine-readable questionnaire and letter were sent to 430 vendors and 100 libraries and library systems throughout California. The 140 vendor and 23 library responses were tabulated for a print-out including 61 comparative data responses (self-evaluation by the vendor plus at least one library evaluation); 79 vendor-only responses; and 41 vendors evaluated by at least one library. A subject index provides vendor names as sources of: (1) generalized Asian American materials in English; (2) materials in the Chinese, Japanese, Korean, Pilipino, and Vietnamese languages; (3) Black materials; (4) Chicano/Spanish language materials; and (5) Native American materials. PREFACE

The California Ethnic Services Task Force, a Library Services and Construction Act Funded project, was established to address problems associated with multicultural services and multilingual collection development.

The Task Force structure was designed to solicit support and to develop cooperative working relationships among the co-sponsoring library systems and expertise in the field.

The fifteen member Task Force was appointed by California State Librarian, Ethel S. Crockett, to implement the project goal--"the development of tools and methodologies to assist California librarians establish collections and service to meet the needs of California's ethnic populations."

The 1978-79 Task Force consisted of five subcommittees, each addressing specific concerns. Among these were information dissemination, developing an authority for Spanish language subject headings, evaluating ethnic collections, and the development of recommendations for improved library service to California's ethnic population.

Multicultural/Multilingual Resources: A Vendor Directory is the final work of the subcommittee that addressed itself to the specific objective:

> To evaluate sources (vendors, publishers, tools) and develop strategies for the purchase of ethnic and non-English language materials.

This directory is based upon Ethnic Library Materials: A Preliminary Vendor List, compiled by the 1977-78 Task Force subcommittee: Oscar Sims, Rita Torres and Gwendolyn Weaver.

We are grateful to the many persons who have contributed to the development of this product. We also would like to acknowledge the vendors and librarians who kindly responded to our survey.

Special thanks are due to Tom Shoemaker and the staff of the California Library Authority for Systems and Services (CLASS) for their technical assistance, to Patricia Richardson, Administrative Assistant to the California Ethnic Services Task Force, for her coordination of all details in the publication of this document and to Patricia Aldana for her assistance with the cover design.

INTRODUCTION

This directory is designed for use by medium-sized public libraries as a resource tool to assist librarians in developing collections for the multicultural, multilingual communities which they serve. Ethnic services librarians throughout California have expressed a need for the kind of information provided herein, as it is not always readily available, further complicating the often problematic acquisition of library materials for this service population.

The term "ethnic," as used here, refers to four major groups in California: Asian American--of Chinese, Japanese, Korean, Pilipino and Vietnamese descent; Black; Chicano/Spanish-speaking; and Native American. Although limited to these four groups, the directory may be used as a prototype for tools of a similar nature to provide sources of materials for other ethnic groups not included.

The term "vendor" is used synonymously with "source." Anyone who supplies materials about the history and culture in English or in the languages of the particular group or groups, whether exclusively or as part of his stock, is considered an "ethnic vendor" for purposes of this survey.

Primarily included are non-mainstream sources--direct purchase vendors who seldom appear at conventions or visit libraries unless invited and who have been "discovered" by librarians in their search for multicultural, multilingual materials. University presses, who produce large amounts of materials to support ethnic studies programs, antiquarian booksellers, who from time to time acquire old and rare materials in the four categories, and search services, which do not warehouse materials but can procure them, are included if they responded to the survey.

The list of vendors is selective in scope. Sources cited are located throughout the country and abroad and were suggested for inclusion by California librarians in public, academic, school district, and special libraries. This resulted in the preliminary listing published by the Task Force in 1978. Deletions and additional suggestions by Task Force members produced a working list of 430 vendors.

A machine-readable questionnaire was designed to address three areas of concern to librarians in the field: 1) vendor profile--questions 1-7; 2) pre-order services provided--questions 8-32; and 3) customer satisfaction--questions 33-39.

A questionnaire and letter soliciting responses to the vendor profile and pre-order services questions were sent to each of the 430 vendors. The same questionnaire was also sent to 100 libraries and library systems throughout California. In addition to requesting libraries to state what services were available or used, for as many vendors as they wished to evaluate, responses to the customer satisfaction questions were solicited if applicable. These 100 libraries were selected on the basis of geographic distribution, type of library (public, academic, school district, special), and size of population served. Both vendors and libraries also received a vendor list, arranged alphabetically, with each vendor name preceded by an identifying, sequential numerical code.

Of the 430 questionnaires mailed out to vendors, 60 were returned as undeliverable. The remaining 370 vendors were assumed to still be in business. Of this number, 140 vendors responded to the survey. Of the 100 libraries and library systems contacted, 23 provided 112 total responses about 44 vendors.

Vendor and library responses were then tabulated for a print-out with the following results: 61 comparative data responses (self-evaluation by the vendor plus at least one library evaluation); 79 vendor-only responses; 41 vendors evaluated by at least one library.

The directory is divided into four parts:

I. Alphabetical/numerical listing of vendors, with comparative data by vendors and libraries

II. A. Alphabetical/numerical listing of vendors, with vendor responses only

B. Alphabetical/numerical listing of vendors, with library responses only

III. Alphabetical/numerical listing of narrative comments, by vendors and libraries

IV. Alphabetical/numerical master listing of vendor names and and addresses

A subject index provides vendor names as sources of: 1) generalized Asian American materials in English; 2) materials in Chinese, Japanese, Korean, Pilipino, and Vietnamese languages; 3) Black materials; 4) Chicano/Spanish language materials; and 5) Native American materials.

Technical advisors to the project recommended that 30 observations of a single occurrence would constitute a valid statistical statement. Due to insufficient responses from libraries about any one vendor, this document has become more a directory than the evaluative tool originally intended. Tabulations are then only indications of those vendors most commonly used by California librarians. No value judgments are forwarded by the Ethnic Services Task Force. The qualitative responses are those of librarians in the field, based on their experiences. In spite of this, users of the directory can still make their own choices of vendors, using the data provided as a guide.

PART I

ALPHABETICAL/NUMERICAL LISTING OF VENDORS, WITH COMPARATIVE DATA BY VENDORS AND LIBRARIES

This section contains 61 questionnaires, one per vendor, with data provided by the vendors and by libraries and library systems which have either used or are aware of their services. For each item, vendor responses are indicated by an asterisk outside the parentheses. A tabulation of library responses is expressed numerically within the parentheses. Items for which there is no library response are indicated by a zero within the parentheses.

For example,

ETHNIC GROUPS SERVED

*(4) Black (0) Chinese *(1) Native American

At the bottom of each questionnaire, the total number of library responses is indicated in the parentheses.

SUBJECT INDEX

Within each subdivision, vendors are listed alphabetically, with identifying sequential numerical codes. Vendors providing materials in more than one language and/or about more than one cultural group are repeated in the various categories when appropriate. In the Chicano/Spanish language materials section, vendors are further identified by "C" and/or "S" (i.e. "Chicano" and/or "Spanish language") if that information was available. Vendors with multiple offices are further identified by their geographical location, for example,

European Book Corporation--Los Angeles
European Book Corporation--San Francisco.
